MUSJID PROJECT - SYRIA

Supported by

As the Syrian crisis enters its fourth year and shows no sign of abating, the Al-Imdaad Foundation has embarked on the establishment on a second containerised village to provide thousands of IDP's with adequate long term shelter. The new establishment, which will be constructed in the Siccu village of Azaz, Aleppo, Syria will house approximately 6000 people who will require many services. One of the services needed, will be a place of sanctity, peace and worship. As such, the Al-Imdaad Foundation has intended to establish a Masjid in the village in order to meet this need. We look forward to your generous support.
